

THE TEA LANDS

The main commercial cultivations are tea, rubber and coconut in this Island Sri Lanka. The tea is categorized to three categories, they are,

- High grown tea
- Mid country
- Low grown tea

The categorizing depends on the high of locations of tea land which is measured considering the the sea level. Tea grown on the lands which is locating above 1200m above the sea level is called “High Grown Tea”. The example is Nuwara Eliya. That is 1892m above the sea level. Because of the cold climate in this area known as LITTLE ENGLAND.

The tea lands locate between 1200m and 600m above the sea level. That is mid country.

Below the 600m above the sea level the tea land which is locating that is low grown tea.
